VANETTA LEWIS TO PARTICIPATE
IN IDAHO WORKSHOP JAN. 31-FEB. 4

MISSOULA--

Mrs. Vanetta Lewis, associate professor of home economics education at the University of Montana, will participate in the Northwest Area Manpower Institute for the Development of Staff Jan. 31 through Feb. 4 in Pocatello, Idaho. The institute is entitled "Vocational Educational Curriculum Development Workshop."

"The institute is designed to train vocational educators in curriculum preparation and modification of instructional materials to enable disadvantaged and handicapped students to achieve success in career preparation programs," said Mrs. Lewis.

Mrs. Lewis said the participants will update the relevancy of vocational education courses, develop performance objectives in which conditions and criteria are optimal components, and individualize instruction concepts and techniques. Participants also will develop learning packages and the application of appropriate audiovisual techniques to the practical methods of communicating.

Mrs. Lewis received her bachelor of science degree in home economics education at Montana State University, Bozeman, and master of education degree at U.M.
